Yesler Partnership Creation

Josh explains this resolution creates two options for SCIDpda. Option 1: Authorize the creation of Monku for GP. Option 2: Authorize SCIDpda to be a co-gp and dissolve monku.

Resolution 20-07-21-02: WHEREAS the Seattle Chinatown International District Preservation and Development Authority (“SCIDpda”) is a co-sponsor and co-developer of the Yesler Family Housing project, a proposed mixed-use project that will include approximately 156 units of affordable housing for low income persons, a child care center and community-oriented commercial services (collectively, the “Project”) on certain real property in Seattle, Washington (the “Property”).

WHEREAS, SCIDpda desires to co-sponsor and co-develop the Project with Community Roots Housing, a public development authority, formerly known as Capitol Hill Housing Improvement Program (“CRH”).

WHEREAS, in furtherance of the Project, SCIDpda caused the formation of Big Village LLLP, a Washington limited liability limited partnership (the “Partnership”) to serve as the owner and operator of the Project.

WHEREAS, in furtherance of the Project, SCIDpda caused the formation of Monku LLC, a Washington limited liability company (the “Company”) to serve as general partner of the Partnership if necessary.

WHEREAS, SCIDpda is the manager and holds a 51% membership interest in the Company and an affiliate of CRH is a co-member with a 49% membership interest.

WHEREAS, depending on Project structuring, either the Company will serve as the general partner of the Partnership or SCIDpda and CRH will serve as co-general partners of the Partnership. In the event that SCIDpda and CRH serve as co-general partners of the Partnership, then SCIDpda intends to cause the dissolution of the Company.

WHEREAS, in furtherance of the Project, CRH and/or SCIDpda may be required to guaranty repayment of certain loans to the Partnership and/or guaranty obligations of the general partner(s) of the Partnership.

WHEREAS, in furtherance of the Project, CRH and SCIDpda have entered or will enter into a Joint Development Agreement setting forth their respective roles and responsibilities with respect to the development of the Project (the “Joint Development Agreement”).

WHEREAS, SCIDpda intends to apply for predevelopment, acquisition, and permanent financing from various funders for the Project.

WHEREAS, SCIDpda desires to take such steps as are reasonably necessary to (i) cause the formation of the Partnership and/or the Company; (ii) enter into the Joint Development Agreement; (iii) undertake such steps as are reasonably necessary for the acquisition of a long-term leasehold of the Property and/or development of the Project; and (iv) apply for financing for the Project from various funders.

SCIDpda Staff Reports – August 2020

Executive Director

Maiko Winkler-Chin

Boardmembers – please let me know if you would like:

- Staff analysis of Jumpstart tax on CID
- Public Defender Association presentation on Co-LEAD program (described below)

A peek into the general emotional feel of those I'm working with – both at the SCIDpda and others. I am not good with emotions or English words tied to emotions (I didn't learn "English" until I was 6, but I learned Wahiawa, Hawaii... which means it isn't the English spoken here). This is the....weirdest? strangest? most surreal? time I am aware of living. I say this as I reflect on the challenges brought forth by covid and its impacts on community, including our staff. I say this as I reflect on this moment of... reckoning (is that the right word?) that was brought to a head by George Floyd's murder. I say this as all the stresses of EVERYTHING is dragging on and is impacting folks.

Although I was saying that we should prepare for the pandemic to go on for months – "let's make sure our kids are ready for remote school!" – I did not, when being honest with myself, expect to be in this state 6 month after the first community spread covid cases in the area. Watching what is happening with our governments – both federal and city – has been shocking? devastating? horrifying?

We will feel the fallout of 2020 for years to come.

External

Interim CDA asked several organizations to sign onto a letter related to the Jumpstart Seattle tax. We as an organization did not have a formal conversation about it, and thus I would share the letter with the Board Executive Committee in advance of signing. At this time, I do not think we can sign onto it because I do not understand the point of the letter. If the board would like, staff can draft a memo about key points of the Jumpstart program and how it could potentially benefit this neighborhood.

Co-LEAD - I was on a webinar hosted by the Downtown Seattle Association (our membership has lapsed, we are considering re-joining) called "Investing in Behavioral Health for a Safer Seattle". Panelist Lisa Daugard, head of the Public Defender's Association (also commonly called the PDA), discussed their Co-LEAD program. I have the entire 6 page write up for the program which is a pilot that hopes to be funded soon for a 5 month demonstration focused on Pioneer Square and the CID, but below is a short description. Asian Counseling and Referral Service will be the agency here in the CID working on the program. If the Board would like a presentation by the PDA on their work, please let me know.

Summary of Co-LEAD as an Approach to Build Upon Permanent Supportive Housing Models in Hotels

Co-LEAD is based on the harm reduction, outreach and case management approach of LEAD, but is more intensive and focused on temporary stability for people using drugs, committing low level law violations, experiencing homelessness and living with lower grade mental health conditions. Co-LEAD has used 5 hotels County-wide to date along with an innovative and intense staffing coverage model that has and on-site presence at the hotels (with on-site staff office space in one to two of the hotel rooms) and supports participants daily with case management staff and a medical provider.

The use of hotels and this staffing model provides a high degree of stabilization and supports sheltering in place/safety in location during the pandemic. By having a place to sleep and exist outside of a tent or a car or a business doorway, participants have quickly sought/been responsive to resources to address healthcare issues, problematic substance use (Medication Assisted Treatment, sober supports, reduced use support), job search and employment and housing-related search and supports.

Grace Kim of Schemata Workshop, and member of the Housing Development Consortium of Seattle King County Board Governance Committee reached out to see if someone would be willing to be considered for the Board. I had served on the board in the mid-2000s, and I also stepped on for about 6 months last year when Andrea Sato, board president our real estate legal attorney, asked if I could make a “guest appearance” to meet bylaw requirements. They ostensibly were looking for a non-profit organization representing a community of color who understood real estate development. After discussing with a couple of directors about whom best to serve, I will represent the organization. We were one of the HDC founding organizations, and it appears that there will be some interesting conversations about the organization’s future.

I asked Mike Omura, Director of Real Estate Development, to work with the staff team and the Real Estate Committee, into developing some guidelines and policies for future board approval discussing what the SCIDpda develops and produces, and clarifies where the RED committee and the board insert themselves.

Jared Jonson, Director of Property Operations, is out on parental leave. He is back in office at the end of September thru mid-November with a focus on budgets, then out again until January. As such, there will be no Property Operations narrative anticipated at this time. He is a little preoccupied as his child was born on August 4th. Congratulations! The family is doing good, although exhausted.

I will be out of office from August 31st through September 11th, back in office on September 14th, the day before our September board meeting.

Community Initiatives

Jamie Lee

When the pandemic started, much of Community Initiatives' work shifted. We thought the pandemic situation would just be through the summer, at the very most, but that is not the case. As such, I am changing the structure of how we report our work to the board. As most of CI staff work remotely, our work may not be as obvious but please note that CI staff are busy continuing our externally focused work in fulfilling the SCIDpda's mission.

Routine work

Public Space Projects

Through our Maynard Alley Activation work, we hired artists to paint murals on plywood in empty storefronts at the Louisa (here's one of the panels). The work will be done by September.

We continue to implement recommendations of the lighting study; this includes upgrading and restoring the pedestrian lights at Kobe Terrace Park and exploring possibilities for lighting the pagoda at in Hing Hay Park. We are moving forward in efforts to light the dragons across the District.

Preservation

By August 31st, we will complete the Integrated Planning Grant funded through the Department of Commerce to explore contaminants on the Goodwill site. It is now up to other partners on the project to decide how it moves forward.

We are also completing work with a few Unreinforced Masonry (URM) buildings in the district to look at strengthening them in advance of an earthquake.

We have executed a contract with the Alliance for Pioneer Square to complete a Jackson Hub Art Survey (Jackson Hub is the area along Jackson Street between 2nd Avenue Extension and 5th Avenues) to create a survey and history of the artwork built into the plaza next to Union Station. This project builds on the Jackson Hub Concept plan, which was a study completed in 2019 to reclaim this area through a holistic approach to public space and pedestrian improvements.

Census 2020

The Census will now end at the end of September 2020; the CID is at a 54% response rate (it was at 66.3% in 2010), and the state of Washington is at 69.6%. We are working with the Census Bureau and the CID Complete Count Committee to explore ways to close the gap in response rates.

Hing Hay Coworks

Hing Hay Coworks re-opened in July when King County moved into Phase II of the Governor's COVID-19 Reopening Plan. We opened to "full-in members" (members that normally have 24hr access to the space) only – a few have taken the opportunity to come in. Members must sign up ahead of time, take their temperature when they enter, keep masks on at all times, and clean up after themselves. So far it's been going well, and we plan to allow other membership levels access since we have space.

Program shifts because of COVID 19

Small Business Relief

We are giving out Round 3 of our Small Business Relief Fund, which is a project with the SCIDpda, Friends of Little Saigon, and the CID Business Improvement Area. Once we allocate Round 3, we will have given out over $600k to 180 businesses, with some funds for businesses we are still trying to contact. Our fund has raised over $750k and is still pulling in donations. We plan to keep some in case we need to do another fundraising push if businesses have to shut down again. Shout out to the accounting department for their support on cutting the hundreds of checks for us.

The Small Business Relief Team continues to translate and disburse guidance to our businesses on reopening. We are also packaging and distributing over 3,000 cloth and disposable masks as well as mask requirements and social distancing rule posters, in both Chinese and Vietnamese for our small businesses. We do constant outreach to over 250 businesses in the CID, either by phone, text, or email.

Food Deliveries

The CI team coordinates and delivers (in partnership with the Property Operations team) over 600 meals and 400 bags of groceries a week to 17 different buildings in the CID. The groceries are provided by ACRS and meals are through ICHS, while we purchase meals from CID restaurants through a grant from the Bank of America, which we received in collaboration with Mercy Housing, Bellwether Housing, and Community Roots Housing. We as a group are seeking more funds.

Coalition Against Hate and Bias

We serve on the Coalition Against Hate and Bias, which is a group of organizations in King County that report hate and bias crimes that happen in their communities. We are developing strategies on how to talk about hate and bias crimes with our non-English speaking and elderly in the CID. Thus far, SCIDpda has reported 6-7 crimes, the coalition itself (county wide) has reported three times the number of hate and bias crimes than law enforcement.

Branding and Social Media

Over the last few months, the CI team has worked on developing the SCIDpda brand as an organization that supports the needs of the community. Using the internet as a way to connect with the community (because we can't in person!) we have focused on telling the story of how present our organization is in the District, especially during this time. This branding will feed directly into our fundraiser.

Grants

To date, we have raised over $247,000 in general operating or staff support through COVID 19 relief grants. This is in addition to the funding that we are raising for the CID Small Business Relief Fund, which flows through CIDpda.

Bank of America	$25,000	Staff – Community Initiatives (in addition to meal funds)
JP Morgan Chase	$5,000	GEN OPS
King County Office of Equity and Social Justice	$15,000	Staff - Community Initiatives for Hate Crimes work

SCIDpda Direct Involvement

Pacific Medical North Lot

The current design contemplates buildings that are comprised of a Program of All Inclusive Care for the Elderly (23,000 sq. ft.), 270 affordable units, and 9,500 sq. ft. of childcare. ## SCIDpda Consolidated – Q2 2020 Financial Summary

Revenues through Q2 2020 were approximately $197K greater than budget for the entire organization. There is a $67K positive variance in Rental Income - despite rent concessions and the temporary closure of Hinghay CoWorks – due in large part to the recovery of bad debt expensed from prior years; $34K was collected from the Parks Dept. for 2010 – 2018 NNN and $57K from ICHS for the 2018 NNN reconciliation. And while Vacancies have a $10K negative variance, rent has a $52K positive variance. Interest Income has a $23K negative variance due to lower interest rates. And Fundraising Income has a $174K positive variance, due in large part to $100K from the Seattle Foundation for general operating costs associated with covid-19.

Expenses through Q2 2020 were approximately $80K over budget for the entire organization. In Administrative Fees, Professional Fees & Consulting has a $25K positive variance due to lower than anticipated costs for legal fees and consulting from Wendy Watanabe, but Salaries has a $40K negative variance due to covid-19, including hazard pay and less use of PTO. Properties Management Fee is based on receipts and has a $25K negative variance due to less receipts due to rent deferrals and concessions. Maintenance has a $74K negative variance due to an increase in Janitorial WOs and to lower than budgeted CAM Recovery. The $17K positive variance in Utilities is largely due to lower than budgeted Water/Sewer in Properties. And Program Expenses has a $13K positive variance due to lower than budgeted fundraising expenses.

As a result, our NOI before Depreciation was $1.1M which was $117K better than budget through June 2020.

Re: What Are We Looking For in Board Members?

It's that time of year when we are looking for board members – actually, we should always be looking for potential board members! Mindy noted in the newsletter to contact staff if anyone was interested in joining the board, and we received 2 interested parties....

And thus that led us to this question – what are we looking for in Board Members? Important to know before we start interviewing

In order to help us in this conversation, I'm including the following documents. Please review before the board meeting:

- Notes from a 2007 SCIDpda board training – review, but please look carefully at the board recruitment section
- Two sample board matrices for review – please look over and see what you think is relevant or not, and what we should be looking for (or not). If you would like to add something to a matrix, please be prepared to bring up the category / skill / item
- “Ditch your Board Composition Matrix”, a counterpoint article to the standard practice of having a board matrix

I'm also including SCIDpda's purpose from its charter for reference below:

Employing the unique powers and capabilities conferred by State and City law, the Authority will promote, assist and encourage the renewal, rehabilitation, preservation, restoration, and development of structures and open spaces in the area coincident with that described in the City of Seattle Special Review District Ordinance 102455. These efforts will be conducted in a manner that affords a continuing opportunity for local business and property owners, residents, community organizations, and visitors to carry on their traditional, as well as developing, Chinatown-International District activities. In addition to upgrading structures and public amenities in and around the Chinatown-International District, the Authority will encourage programs to expand food retailing in the District, especially the sale of ethnic products; to expand and preserve the residential community, especially for low-income people; to promote the survival and predominance of small shops, ethnic businesses and other enterprises, activities and services which are essential to the functioning and vitality of the Chinatown-International District.

Notes from Susan Howlett “Boards That Lead” Training (5/17/07)

Setting Strategic Goals –

- No more than 3 goals: program, infrastructure, and fundraising/finance
- One set of goals for org and one set for the Board
- Board meeting agendas should be organized per the strategic goals
- Create “dashboard indicators” to measure how well you’re meeting goals

Knowledge of Mission Statement, Programs, Clientele, Etc. -

- Does each board member know our mission statement? Would they be able to quickly respond if someone asked them?
- Does each board member know key facts about SCIDpda and the community? How many people do we serve? Four focus areas? What are our funding sources?

Board Recruitment

- Post Board Matrix on wall at board meeting, have board members fill in their own skills, expertise, and background so they can see how they fit into the composition of the Board. Board members that once were but are no longer a good fit will see for themselves
- Board Development Committee that meets regularly is essential. Development and recruitment should be ongoing
- 3-year recruitment process – Put potential candidates into the pipeline by getting them on committees so they are familiar with SCIDpda prior to being on Board
- Be very clear about the skills, expertise, personality we’re looking for – need to let candidate know why we want them
- Ask companies and associations if they have members who fit our profile
- Approach candidates who have previous board and donor (not necessarily fundraising) experience
- If fundraising is a priority, Development Manager/Director needs to be included in all initial meetings w/candidates

Clarifying Expectations

- Board decides what the goal is. Staff decides how to get there.
- Board decides “the end.” Staff decides “the means.”
- Info kits for board candidates should include general board responsibilities as well as a commitment form that clearly specifies what we expect of our board members
- Set deadline for new members to sign a commitment form
- Set deadline for new members to join a committee

Ideal Board Meeting Agenda:

- Community Building – food
- Inspiration – At each meeting, a board member shares an inspirational story about a client that has been served by the org. Will probably require them to talk with a client which staff or other board members can help them connect with. Board Development Committee in charge of assigning a board member to each meeting

- Consent Agenda – a consent agenda is a bundle of items that include committee reports and meeting minutes that is sent to board members prior to the meeting and voted on at the beginning of the meeting, without discussion, as a package. Board members are expected to read the consent agenda prior to the meeting. A consent agenda is a time-saving tool that allows the meeting to focus on issues that affect the future and require further examination and strategic planning. A committee might still need to give a report at the meeting if it relates to the organization or Board's three strategic goals, but just not as a routine agenda item. More info about consent agendas at <http://www.help4nonprofits.com/ConsentAgenda.htm>
- Education/Training – ranges from fundraising to how our programs operate to budget review
- Governance – strategic discussion per three strategic goals for the organization and Board

Committees vs. Task Forces

- Task forces with specific beginning and endings are more effective for utilizing the Board's time
- Task forces are not ongoing and only form when an issue arises and needs to be explored

Ditch Your Board Composition Matrix

by Jan Masaoka on June 11, 2012 / <https://blueavocado.org/board-of-directors/ditch-your-board-composition-matrix/?highlight=board%20skills%20matrix>

You know the board matrix: it has a list of skills and competencies that are “supposed” to be on the board, such as legal, marketing, HR, fundraising, finance. And typically there are also demographic qualities, such as gender, race, age. The board matrix then shows what boxes you presumably need to fill.

What’s wrong here is that these board composition matrices focus our attention on what people are, rather than on what the organization needs board members to do.

Three traps of the board composition matrix

Let’s look at the three failures of board matrix approaches:

1. The skills trap: By identifying skills such as “legal” or “finance,” we often end up with the wrong kind of legal or financial professional on the board. For example, when we say we need a lawyer, we may get a personal injury lawyer when the legal issues at our organization are about either employment or zoning.

If your organization needs help re-working a budget down to $650,000, a CPA who is in accounts receivable at Wells Fargo may not be as valuable as a non-CPA owner of a small business or the finance director at another nonprofit.

Furthermore, the emphasis on skills often leaves out experience, knowledge and perspective . . . and implies that only professionals are qualified to be on boards.

Instead of focusing on skills: focus on actions needed. Look for “someone who can and will help us analyze the true costs of our hotline” rather than look for a CPA. And by focusing on actions, we also tie recruitment to the real-life needs of our organization at this point in time, rather than a generic list.

2. The demographic trap: Nearly all boards feel weighed down by demographic diversity imperatives. Whether it’s a mostly white board thinking, “we need someone who’s black,” or an all Asian board thinking, “we don’t have anyone from India,” too often we end up with someone who lets us check the demographic box but never becomes engaged.

Instead: focus on actions needed. Do we need someone who can reach the Arab grocers association to get their support for the plastic bag ban? Do we need someone who can help recruit Spanish speaking Big Brothers? Let’s look for those action attributes rather than simply for someone who is Arab or who is Latino.

3. The connections trap: Too often we recruit board members because they are wealthy and know other wealthy people, or because they work for a corporation that we hope will make a corporate grant to us. But we don't feel comfortable bringing up the issue of major donations during the recruitment process. As a result, we recruit a wealthy woman, let's say, and spend the next year beaming the invisible message at her: "Volunteer for the fundraising committee and write a big check."

Just because a person makes $25,000 donations to other organizations doesn't mean she wants to make one to your organization. And just because she has wealthy friends doesn't mean she is willing to ask them for donations.

Just because someone works at a corporation doesn't mean they can or are willing to seek out a corporate donation for your organization. (They may have used up their chips already, or may be on poor terms with the people in the corporate giving department.)

And we've all recruited someone because he "knows everyone," and yet he never seems to get around to introducing us to anyone.

Instead: focus on actions needed. Rather than recruit someone "with connections to City Hall," ask a prospect if she would be willing and able to set up three or four lunches a year with city council members for your executive director and board president. Instead of recruiting someone because he's wealthy, ask him whether he would be willing to organize three other board members into a group that would try to raise $50,000 per year as a group.

By focusing on what people will do rather than what people are, we accomplish three goals:

- We broaden our field of sight as we recruit for the board. Rather than just looking for someone in marketing, we think more widely and include bloggers, writers, community organizers, and others who know how to communicate a message.
- We don't end up recruiting someone with the right demographics or professional background or financial means but who can't or won't do what we have mistakenly assumed they could or would. When we recruit people for what they will do, we get people who can and do what is needed . . . because we've asked them if they can and will. And someone who has joined a board to help with getting zoning laws changed in your neighborhood is someone who will want to get started on that at his or her very first board meeting.
- We ground board recruitment in the needs of this organization at this time in its development, rather than on a generic set of skills or attributes out of a textbook. And by doing so, we focus our recruitment on the critical path of the organization and its strategic, pressing needs.

So throw out that board composition matrix. Instead: ask these questions:

- a) What are the three most important things for our board to accomplish this year?
- b) Do we have the right people on the board to make that happen?
