Welcome

It has been three years since we last held an in-person event for SCIDpda's signature annual fundraiser. A big welcome to our returning and first-time attendees!

What a few years it has been. We have all, the SCIDpda included, experienced challenges we could not have prepared for — and grown in ways we could not have imagined. We're here today because, 47 years ago, community members had a vision for this organization and what it could mean to the Chinatown International District neighborhood. SCIDpda was sustained throughout the years by that same continued commitment and support, and today we continue that tradition.

As excited as I am to promote our new resident services program, small business support, and the North Lot development project — SCIDpda's various forms of stewardship in the neighborhood — my true hope is that each of you experience community here and find your reason to give and create impact. I want you to make new connections, reconnect with old friends and colleagues, and have at least one good conversation during the next two hours. Come find me if you don't know who to talk to!

Please enjoy this evening of excellent music and food, hosted by the incomparable Aleksa Manila, and held together by our community members and partners. On behalf of SCIDpda's board and staff, thank you for choosing to be here with us tonight.

In support of SCIDpda's fundraiser, board members have created mini-fundraising campaigns to crowdsource donations. These personalized campaigns are called "virtual tables."

Scan a board member's QR code below to see their virtual table, where you'll get a personalized sense of what the Chinatown International District means to members of our organization's leadership.
